Core	45%

Devon has a valuation-based/intrinsic value approach that focuses on free cash flow generation and return on invested capital.

Devon takes a long-term view and views valuation as critical. Devon believes that high quality businesses can be acquired at a discount to fair value due to market inefficiencies and short term price volatility.

Management Style	Target Weight
Passive	25%

This passive manager aims to track the S&P/NZX 50 with net dividends reinvested.

Harbour Asset Management

Management Style	Target Weight
Core, growth	30%

Harbour believes in growth-orientated active investment management to generate alpha through a combination of quantitative, fundamental and macro research when selecting New Zealand and Australian equities. Harbour's investment process combines in-house analysis with a large quantitative based investment process that identifies key out-performance indicators for stocks
